TUESDAY 26TH MAY 2015

Chris Codrai Double Handicap Champion.

Congratulations to Chris Codrai who has joined the elite ranks of the handicap winners who have won the competition twice. Chris defended a 45 handicap over Harry Clapham, who was going for a consecutive championship win, which has never been done before. Chris got off to an excellent start, holding off Harry's point search for a few minutes, then Harry had two really good runs of winning rallies but a third was required to give him a stranglehold on the final. The squash was a high standard for 20 minutes and the occasional error swung the game in favour of one player or the other until with two minutes to go a couple of errors from Harry as he pushed too hard to force winning points, proved vital and a flagging Chris won by 3 points.

The plate was won by Carl Elliott over Andy Male, in a final which saw Carl catch up the handicap and forge ahead by 10 only to see Andy recover in the last two minutes and run out of time, and lost by 4 points.

Thanks very much to Jack Unsworth, who organized the handicap and is now stepping down as Match Secretary, thanks again for your time & effort.

Angus Clapham has volunteered to step into the fray and do the Match Secretary's job next year, but does need voting on at the AGM! However a year's worth of.."Angus do you want a pint" is worth a try if you want a good handicap next year...but it might not be a good one in your favour!
